DuPont Sustainable Solutions Becomes Independent Global Consulting Firm

Announces New Board of Directors to Oversee Operations

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 3, 2019 – DuPont Sustainable Solutions (DSS) today announced its debut as an independent global operations management consulting firm following its separation from DuPont. The new company will provide enhanced solutions that enable clients to protect their employees and assets, improve the effectiveness of their operations, innovate more rapidly and advance the capabilities of their workforce.

“For over 50 years, DuPont and DuPont Sustainable Solutions together have been helping to make the world a safer place by collaborating with and implementing solutions for clients. Today DSS is excited to begin its next chapter as an independent firm,” said Davide Vassallo, CEO of DuPont Sustainable Solutions. “In a world where global economic changes and disruptions can have a significant impact on the safety and continuity of organizations and their global supply chains, DSS will now have increased flexibility and agility to provide its industry-leading consulting services and bring innovative solutions to market faster for our clients.”

The decision to create an independent firm responds to a growing client need to rapidly access solutions for evolving global challenges, including advancing technologies, maturing systems and processes, the changing workforce, the digital revolution and plateaued safety performance.

“DuPont is extremely proud of the industry-leading work we have done with DSS to achieve lasting safety and operational improvements for companies worldwide,” said Marc Doyle, Chief Executive Officer for DuPont. “DSS is well-positioned to continue providing its clients with world-class services as an independent company, and we are proud of our former colleagues as they begin this exciting new endeavor.”

As an independent company, DSS will maintain its strong connection to its DuPont heritage. DSS will retain the rights to all Intellectual Property related to the services it sells and will have continued access to the DuPont logo, sites, capabilities and resources for a defined period of time.

DSS announced its new board of directors to oversee operations which includes:

- Davide Vassallo, CEO, DSS
