Kish Bancorp, Inc. Names Tina M. Collins Chief Financial Officer, Strengthens Finance Team with Key Leadership Additions

STATE COLLEGE, PA, July 30, 2026 – Kish Bancorp, Inc. (OTCQX: KISB) ("Kish" or the "Company"), parent company of Kish Bank, today announced that Tina M. Collins has been appointed Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of Kish Bancorp and Kish Bank, effective immediately. Collins most recently served as interim CFO since October 2025 and steps into the permanent role following a public recruiting search that drew a strong and competitive field of candidates.

Tina M. Collins is a seasoned accounting and finance executive with over 30 years of experience in community banking, who joined Kish Bank in 2019. Prior to serving as interim CFO, she was SVP, Accounting & Controls Director at Kish Bank, where she was responsible for financial reporting, compliance with regulatory reporting requirements, internal controls, and asset/liability management. Collins has deep expertise in corporate accounting, audit oversight, budgeting, investment portfolio management, and treasury operations, with prior leadership roles at Riverview Bank and CBT Bank. A graduate of Indiana University of Pennsylvania with advanced training from the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, she is recognized for strengthening financial systems, managing complex audits and reporting, and guiding strategic financial and capital planning.

Kish also announced the hiring of Sean Rainey to succeed Collins as Controller, effective immediately. Rainey most recently served as Senior Accounting Manager at Nikon SLM Solutions, overseeing North American accounting operations and leading financial statement consolidation and reporting. In his prior roles, Rainey held progressive accounting and finance leadership positions at GE Healthcare, KCF Technologies, and Rex Energy Corporation. Rainey holds a Bachelor of Science in accounting from Juniata College.

"We couldn't be more thrilled to announce Tina is stepping into the CFO role in a permanent capacity," stated Gregory T. Hayes, President and CEO. "During her tenure as interim CFO, Tina has shown strong leadership in helping Kish build out its Finance team and will provide essential continuity for the CFO position. This appointment reflects the confidence the Board and leadership team have in Tina's ability to help guide our next phase of growth, as well as our deliberate investment in building out the Finance team. We are fortunate to have established leaders like Tina and Allan Bills, our SVP of Technical Accounting and Balance Sheet Management and a CPA, working alongside strong new additions like Sean Rainey, our new VP, Controller."
