Part II  Organizational Action
Attach additional statements if needed. See back of form for additional questions.

14  Describe the organizational action and, if applicable, the date of the action or the date against which shareholders’ ownership is measured for the action ► On March 10, 2011, the Company’s board of directors declared a dividend on its outstanding shares of 8% Non-Cumulative Convertible Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series C (the “Series C Preferred Stock”) and 8% Non-Cumulative, Convertible Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series E (the “Series E Preferred Stock”) and together with the Series C Preferred Stock, the “Preferred Stock”). The dividend was payable in the form of shares of the Company’s common stock (or in the case of certain stockholders, shares of a non-voting Series G preferred stock that are convertible on a one-for-one basis into shares of common stock, the “Series G Preferred Stock”). This stock dividend was paid on April 15, 2011 to holders of record of shares of Preferred Stock as of March 30, 2011. For each 100 shares of Preferred Stock outstanding as of the record date the holder thereof received 4.625 shares of common stock or Series G Preferred Stock (or cash in lieu of any holder). Accordingly, the Company issued a total of 58,999 shares of common stock and 10,338 shares of Series G Preferred Stock.

15  Describe the quantitative effect of the organizational action on the basis of the security in the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis ► As a result of the stock dividends described above, a U.S. taxpayer/shareholder of Series C Preferred Stock or Series E Preferred Stock held immediately prior to the stock dividend between the existing Series C Preferred Stock or Series E Preferred Stock and the newly received common stock or Series G Preferred Stock (as applicable) in proportion to their relative fair market values. A shareholder that acquired such Series C Preferred Stock or Series E Preferred Stock shares on different dates or at different prices will need to make a separate tax basis calculation and establish a different tax basis for such block of shares.

16  Describe the calculation of the change in basis and the data that supports the calculation, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates ► As a result of the stock dividends described above, a U.S. taxpayer/shareholder of Series C Preferred Stock or Series E Preferred Stock must allocate the aggregate tax basis of their Series C Preferred Stock or Series E Preferred Stock held immediately prior to the stock dividend between the existing Series C Preferred Stock or Series E Preferred Stock and the newly received common stock or Series G Preferred Stock (as applicable) in proportion to their relative fair market values. For these purposes, the Company has determined to calculate the fair market value of the TCG common stock and the Series G Preferred Stock based on the average of the high and low trading prices of the shares of TCG common stock as reported on the NASDAQ on the distribution dates of the stock dividends ($9.88 on April 15, $9.27 on July 15 and $6.96 on October 15, 2011). In addition, because there is no established market for the Company’s Series C Preferred Stock and Series E Preferred Stock, the Company has determined to base the fair market value of these shares on the $25 per share issue price and liquidation preference thereof.
17 List the applicable Internal Revenue Code section(s) and subsection(s) upon which the tax treatment is based. The applicable Code sections are Sections 305(a) and 307(a).

18 Can any resulting loss be recognized? Shareholders will not recognize a loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in connection with receipt of the stock dividends.

19 Provide any other information necessary to implement the adjustment, such as the reportable tax year. The information herein represents the Company's understanding of existing U.S. federal income tax law and regulations and does not constitute tax advice. It does not purport to be complete or to describe tax consequences that may apply to particular categories of stockholders, including in particular, the possibility of applying different methods for allocating tax basis. The Company does not provide tax advice to its shareholders. However, to ensure compliance with requirements imposed by the IRS, the Company informs you that any U.S. tax advice contained herein is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used, for purposes of (i) avoiding penalties under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or (ii) promoting, marketing, or recommending any transaction or matter discussed herein.
