Welcome!

Thank you for visiting our Investor Relations website.

Avantor completed an initial public offering of its common stock and began trading May 17 on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "AVTR."

On behalf of the board of directors, senior management and our more than 12,000 associates around the world, I am pleased to welcome you to Avantor, a leading global provider of mission-critical products and services to customers in the biopharma, healthcare, education & government and advanced technologies & applied materials industries.

Avantor has a long successful track record of delivering quality products and services to our customers, while continuously growing the business. As a public company, we will continue to advance our mission of setting science in motion to create a better world. We remain committed to the success of our customers, which include many highly regarded companies in the biopharma, semiconductor, aerospace and technology industries, as well as leading research universities. Avantor's deep relationships with these customers reflect our focus on innovation, as well as our financial and operational discipline. Our execution-focused leadership team will continue to strive to create long-term value for our investors and other stakeholders.

Thank you for joining in this journey. I am excited as Avantor enters its next chapter as a public company and the entire Avantor team looks forward to sharing our success with you.

Sincerely,

Michael Stubblefield
CEO
