1Non-GAAP revenue CC growth rates as compared to the comparable prior period. We present CC information for revenue to provide a framework for assessing how our underlying business performed excluding the effects of foreign currency rate fluctuations. To present CC revenue, current and comparative prior period results for entities reporting in currencies other than United States dollars are converted into United States dollars at the weighted average exchange rate for the quarter being compared to for growth rate calculations presented, rather than the actual exchange rates in effect during that period.
Remaining Performance Obligation

Represents future revenue under contract

1Topic 606 introduced remaining transaction price, which is different than unbilled deferred revenue under previous accounting guidance. Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations represents contracted revenue that has not yet been recognized, which includes unearned revenue and unbilled amounts that will be recognized as revenue in future periods. Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligation is influenced by several factors, including seasonality, the timing of renewals, average contract terms, and foreign currency exchange rates. Unbilled portions of the remaining transaction price denominated in foreign currencies are revalued each period based on the period end exchange rates. As with unbilled deferred revenue under previous accounting guidance, the portion of the remaining transaction price that is unbilled is not recorded on the balance sheet.

2To present CC CRPO growth, CRPO balances in local currencies in previous comparable periods are converted using the United States dollar currency exchange rate as of the most recent balance sheet date.

Remaining Performance Obligation (RPO) is a new metric disclosed with the adoption of Topic 6061. RPO represents all future revenue under contract that has not yet been recognized as revenue. Current RPO represents future revenue under contract that is expected to be recognized as revenue in the next 12 months. RPO is influenced by several factors, including seasonality, the timing of renewals, average contract terms, and foreign currency exchange rates.

Notes on our Financial Results

Topic 606 Accounting Standards

• Salesforce retrospectively adopted new accounting standard Topic 606 on February 1, 2018 (Q2 FY19)
• Topic 606 includes changes to accounting policies for revenue recognition and costs capitalized to acquire revenue contracts (primarily commissions)
• All financial results and guidance in this presentation reflect Topic 606. Historical results for FY17, FY18 and Q2-Q4 of FY18 are adjusted to reflect the adoption of new standard
• Refer to the Q1 FY19 press release for additional information, including adjusted historical Statements of Operations and Balance Sheets
• Adjusted information is based on best available information and reflects management’s best estimate of the potential impact as a result of the adoption of the new standard
• Reconciliations to prior standards will not be provided
Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This presentation includes information about non-GAAP diluted earnings per share, non-GAAP income from operations, non-GAAP operating margin, free cash flow, and constant currency revenue and constant currency current remaining performance obligation growth rates (collectively the “non-GAAP financial measures”). These non-GAAP financial measures are measurements of financial performance that are not prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and computational methods may differ from those used by other companies. Non-GAAP financial measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable GAAP measures and should be read only in conjunction with the company’s consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. Management uses both GAAP and non-GAAP measures when planning, monitoring, and evaluating the company’s performance.

The primary purpose of using non-GAAP measures is to provide supplemental information that may prove useful to investors and to enable investors to evaluate the company’s results in the same way management does. Management believes that supplementing GAAP disclosure with non-GAAP disclosure provides investors with a more complete view of the company’s operational performance and allows for meaningful period-to-period comparisons and analysis of trends in the company’s business. Further, to the extent that other companies use similar methods in calculating non-GAAP measures, the provision of supplemental non-GAAP information can allow for a comparison of the company’s relative performance against other companies that also report non-GAAP operating results.

Non-GAAP diluted earnings per share excludes, to the extent applicable, the impact of the following items: stock-based compensation, amortization of purchased intangibles, gains on strategic investments, and previously the net amortization of debt discount on the company’s convertible senior notes, as well as income tax adjustments. These items are excluded because the decisions that give rise to them are not made to increase revenue in a particular period, but instead for the company’s long-term benefit over multiple periods.

Non-GAAP income from operations excludes the impact of the following items: stock-based compensation, and amortization of acquisition-related intangibles.

The company defines the non-GAAP measure free cash flow as GAAP net cash provided by operating activities, less capital expenditures. For this purpose, capital expenditures does not include our strategic investments.

Constant currency information is provided as a framework for assessing how our underlying business performed excluding the effect of foreign currency rate fluctuations. To present constant currency revenue, current and comparative prior period results for entities reporting in currencies other than United States dollars are converted into United States dollars at the weighted average exchange rate for the quarter being compared to for growth rate calculations presented, rather than the actual exchange rates in effect during that period. To present current remaining performance obligation on a constant currency basis, we convert the current remaining performance obligation balances in local currencies in previous comparable periods using the United States dollar currency exchange rate as of the most recent balance sheet date.
