MetLife is one of the largest originators of commercial mortgage loans and agricultural mortgage loans in the U.S. insurance industry. We maintain a local market presence, primarily in the U.S., and diversify our mortgage loan portfolios by geography and property type. We exercise strong discipline in analyzing underlying collateral and focus on lower leveraged mortgage loan investments that offer higher relative value and greater protection from default risk. As of June 30, 2020, only 0.3% of MetLife's commercial mortgage loans had both a loan-to-value ratio above 80% and a debt service coverage ratio below 1.0x.

Explanatory Note

The following information is relevant to an understanding of our assets under management ("AUM"). Our definitions may differ from those used by other companies.

General Account AUM ("GA AUM") is used by MetLife to describe assets in its general account ("GA") investment portfolio which are actively managed and stated at estimated fair value. GA AUM is comprised of GA total investments and cash and cash equivalents, excluding policy loans, contractholder-directed equity securities, fair value option securities and certain other invested assets, as substantially all of these assets are not actively managed in MetLife's GA investment portfolio. Mortgage loans (including commercial, agricultural and residential) and real estate and real estate joint ventures included in GA AUM (at net asset value, net of deduction for encumbering debt) have been adjusted from carrying value to estimated fair value. Classification of GA AUM by sector is based on the nature and characteristics of the underlying investments which can vary from how they are classified under GAAP. Accordingly, the underlying investments within certain real estate and real estate joint ventures that are primarily commercial mortgage loans (at net asset value, net of deduction for encumbering debt) have been reclassified to exclude them from real estate equity and include them as commercial mortgage loans.
