

PROSIGHT GLOBAL, INC.
CORPORATE GOVERNANCE GUIDELINES

As Adopted by the Board of Directors
Effective as of February 20, 2020

I. Introduction

The Board of Directors (the “Board”) of ProSight Global, Inc. (the “Company”), has developed and adopted a set of corporate governance guidelines (the “Guidelines”) to promote the effective functioning of the Board and its committees, to promote the interests of shareholders and to set forth a common set of expectations as to how the Board should perform its functions.

II. Board Composition

The composition of the Board should balance the following goals:

- The size of the Board should facilitate substantive discussions of the whole Board in which each director can participate meaningfully;
- The composition of the Board should encompass a broad range of skills, expertise, industry knowledge, diversity of opinion and contacts relevant to the Company’s business; and
- A majority of the Board will consist of directors who the Board has determined have no material relationship with the Company and who are otherwise “independent” under NYSE rules (an “Independent Director”), subject to an election by the Company to rely on the exemption available to controlled companies and any subsequent phase-in period.

III. Board Leadership

The Board is free to select its Chairman and the Company’s Chief Executive Officer in the manner it considers in the best interests of the Company at any given point in time. These positions may be filled by one individual or by two different individuals.

At any time when the position of Chairman is not held by an Independent Director, the Independent Directors will designate from among themselves a Lead Director, who will have the following powers and duties:

- presiding at all meetings of the Board at which the Chairman and CEO is not present;
- presiding at executive sessions of the Independent Directors;

- reviewing and approving meeting agendas, meeting schedules and information sent to the Board;
- serving as a liaison between the Chairman and CEO and the Independent Directors;
- having the authority to call meetings of the Independent Directors; and
- being available for consultation and direct communication with shareholders, as appropriate.

IV. Selection of Directors

Nominations. The Nominating and Governance Committee is responsible for selecting, or recommending for the Board's selection, the slate of director nominees for election to the Board and for filling vacancies occurring between annual meetings of stockholders.

Criteria. The Nominating and Governance Committee will determine new nominees for the position of Independent Directors who satisfy the requirements of the NYSE and the following criteria:

- Personal qualities and characteristics, accomplishments and reputation in the business community;
- Current knowledge and contacts in the communities in which the Company does business and in the Company's industry or other industries relevant to the Company's business;
- Ability and willingness to commit adequate time to Board and committee matters;
- The fit of the individual's skills and personality with those of other directors and potential directors in building a Board that is effective, collegial and responsive to the needs of the Company; and
- Diversity of viewpoints, background, work and other experiences and other demographics.

The Nominating and Governance Committee will give appropriate consideration to candidates for Board membership proposed by stockholders and will evaluate such candidates in the same manner as other candidates identified by or submitted to the Nominating and Governance Committee.

Invitation. The invitation to join the Board should be extended by the Board itself via the Chairman of the Board, together with an Independent Director, when deemed appropriate.

Orientation and Continuing Education. Management, working with the Board, will provide an orientation process for new directors, including background material on the Company, its business plan and its risk profile, and meetings with senior management. Periodically, management should prepare additional educational sessions for directors on matters relevant to the Company, its business plan and risk profile.

V. Continuation as a Director

Election Term. The Board does not believe it should establish term limits.

Retirement. The Board shall establish a mandatory retirement age of 75, after which age is reached a director shall not stand for re-election; provided that, the Board and the Nominating and Governance Committee may consider whether given facts and circumstances suggest a given director merits continuation on the Board after reaching the age of 75.

Change in Job Responsibilities. If a director's principal occupation or business association changes substantially, the director will notify in writing the chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee (or, in the case of the chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee's occupation or association changing, to the Chairman of the Board) and General Counsel of the Company of the change and any circumstances that are relevant to the change. The Nominating and Governance Committee will review the director's continuation on the Board, and recommend to the Board whether, in light of all the circumstances, the Board should agree that the director continue to serve.

VI. Board Meetings

The Board currently plans at least four meetings each year, with further meetings to occur (or action to be taken by unanimous consent) at the discretion of the Board or as otherwise set forth in the Company's Bylaws. The meetings will usually consist of committee meetings and the Board meeting.

The agenda for each Board meeting will be prepared by the Office of the Corporate Secretary of the Company, and approved by the Chairman and the Lead Director (if applicable). Management will seek to provide to all directors an agenda and appropriate materials in advance of meetings, although the Board recognizes that this will not always be consistent with the timing of transactions and the operations of the business and that in certain cases it may not be possible.

Materials presented to the Board or its committees should be as concise as possible, while still providing the desired information needed for the directors to make an informed judgment.

VII. Executive Sessions

To ensure free and open discussion and communication among the Independent Directors of the Board, these directors will meet in executive sessions periodically, with no members of management present. If the Chairman is an Independent Director, then the Chairman should chair such executive sessions. If not, then the Lead Director should chair such executive sessions. Independent Directors may participate in these executive sessions, but Independent Directors should meet separately in executive session at least once per year.

VIII. The Committees of the Board

The Company will have at least the committees required by NYSE rules. Currently, these are the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee and the Nominating and Governance Committee. Currently, the Board has established five committees: the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee, the Nominating and Governance Committee, the Investment Committee and the Risk Committee (the “Committees”). Each Committee has a written charter and the Committees will maintain a charter to the extent required to satisfy NYSE rules. The Audit Committee must also satisfy the requirements of SEC Rule 10A-3.

All directors, whether members of a committee or not, are invited to make suggestions to a committee chair for additions to the agenda of his or her committee or to request that an item from a committee agenda be considered by the Board. Each committee chair will give a periodic report of his or her committee’s activities to the Board.

Each Committee will be composed of no fewer than three members. Each Committee member must satisfy the membership requirements set forth in the relevant Committee charter. A director may serve on more than one committee for which he or she qualifies.

IX. Management Succession

Periodically, the Board will review and concur in a succession plan, developed by management, addressing the policies and principles for selecting a successor to the CEO, both in an emergency situation and in the ordinary course of business. The succession plan should include an assessment of the experience, performance, skills and planned career paths for possible successors to the CEO.

X. Executive Compensation

1. Evaluating and Approving Salary for the CEO. The Compensation Committee evaluates the performance of the CEO and the Company against the Company’s goals and objectives and determines the compensation level of the CEO.

2. Evaluating and Approving the Compensation of Management. The Compensation Committee evaluates and approves the proposals for overall compensation policies applicable to executive officers.

XI. Board Compensation

The Board should conduct a review at least once every two years of the components and amount of Board compensation in relation to other similarly situated companies. Board compensation should be consistent with market practices but should not be set at a level that would call into question the Board's objectivity.

XII. Expectations for Directors

The business and affairs of the Company are managed by or under the direction of the Board in accordance with Delaware law. In performing their duties, the primary responsibility of the directors is to exercise their business judgment in the best interests of the Company. The Board has developed a number of specific expectations of directors to promote the discharge of this responsibility and the efficient conduct of the Board's business.

1. Commitment and Attendance. All directors should make every effort to attend meetings of the Board and meetings of committees of which they are members. Members may attend by telephone or video conference to mitigate conflicts.

2. Participation in Meetings. Each director should be sufficiently familiar with the business of the Company, including its financial statements and capital structure, and the risks and competition it faces, to facilitate active and effective participation in the deliberations of the Board and of each committee on which he or she serves. Upon request, management will make appropriate personnel available to answer any questions a director may have about any aspect of the Company's business. Directors should also review the materials provided by management and advisors in advance of the meetings of the Board and its committees and should arrive prepared to discuss the issues presented.

3. Loyalty and Ethics. In their roles as directors, all directors owe a duty of loyalty to the Company. This duty of loyalty mandates that the best interests of the Company take precedence over any interests possessed by a director.

The Company has adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics. Certain portions of the Code deal with activities of directors, particularly with respect to transactions in the securities of the Company, potential conflicts of interest, the taking of corporate opportunities for personal use, and competing with the Company. Directors should be familiar with the Code's provisions in these areas and should consult with the Company's counsel in the event of any issues.

4. Other Activities. The Company values the experience directors bring from other business associations, including boards on which they serve, and the other activities in which they participate, but recognizes that those activities may also present demands on a director's time and availability and may present conflicts or legal issues. Directors should advise the chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee and the Chairman of the Board before accepting membership on any audit committee or other significant committee assignment (such as a lead or presiding director role) on any other board of directors, any new membership on other boards of directors or other significant commitments involving affiliation with other businesses or governmental entities.

5. Contact with Management. All directors are invited to contact the CEO at any time to discuss any aspect of the Company's business. Directors also have complete access to other members of management. The Board expects that there will be frequent opportunities for directors to meet with the CEO and other members of management in Board and committee meetings and in other formal or informal settings.

Further, the Board encourages management to, from time to time, bring managers into Board meetings who: (a) can provide additional insight into the items being discussed because of personal involvement and substantial knowledge in those areas, and/or (b) are managers with future potential that the senior management believes should be given exposure to the Board.

6. Contact with Other Constituencies. It is important that the Company speak to employees and outside constituencies with a single voice, and that management serve as the primary spokesperson.

7. Confidentiality. The proceedings and deliberations of the Board and its committees are confidential. Each director will maintain the confidentiality of information received in connection with his or her service as a director.

8. Reviewing and Approving Significant Transactions. Board approval of a particular transaction may be appropriate because of several factors, including:

- legal or regulatory requirements,
- the materiality of the transaction to the Company's financial performance, risk profile or business,
- the terms of the transaction, or
- other factors, such as the entering into of a new line of business or a variation from the Company's strategic plan.

To the extent the Board determines it to be appropriate, the Board will develop standards to be utilized by management in determining types of transactions that should be submitted to the Board for review and approval or notification.

XIII. Evaluating Board Performance

The Board, acting through the Nominating and Governance Committee, should conduct a self-evaluation at least annually to determine whether it is functioning effectively. The Nominating and Governance Committee should periodically consider the mix of skills and experience that directors bring to the Board to assess whether the Board has the necessary tools to perform its oversight function effectively.

Each committee of the Board should conduct a self-evaluation at least annually and report the results to the Board, acting through the Nominating and Governance Committee. Each committee's evaluation must compare the performance of the committee with the requirements of its written charter, if any.

XIV. Reliance on Management and Outside Advice

In performing its functions, the Board is entitled to rely on the advice, reports and opinions of management, counsel, accountants, auditors and other expert advisors. The Board will have the authority to retain and approve the fees and retention terms of its outside advisors.

XV. Policy Statement

The Guidelines are a statement of policy. They are in addition to, and are not intended to change or interpret, any Federal or state law or regulation, including the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, or the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or the Bylaws, as the same may be amended from time to time. The Board and the Nominating and Governance Committee will review and amend these guidelines from time to time as they deem necessary and appropriate.
