

Sphere And Zoox Announce Multi-Year Partnership Naming Zoox The Official Autonomous Ride-Hail Partner Of The Venue

2025-10-28

Guests Can Access Zoox Ride-Hail Services at Sphere Starting Early Next Year

LAS VEGAS (October 28, 2025) – Sphere Entertainment Co. (NYSE: SPHR) and Zoox, the autonomous ride-hailing company, today announced a multi-faceted partnership that will make Zoox the Official Autonomous Ride-Hail Partner of Sphere. As part of this partnership, the venue will have a dedicated autonomous vehicle ride-hail pick-up and drop off zone at Sphere, where guests will be able to utilize Zoox’s robotaxi ride-hail services through the Zoox app.

Zoox is creating a unique way to explore Las Vegas in a purpose-built robotaxi that gives riders back time, space, and choice. In September, Zoox officially launched its robotaxi service in Las Vegas, becoming the first company in history to provide a fully autonomous ride-hailing service in a purpose-built robotaxi.

“Sphere is built on innovation, and so are our partners,” said Marcus Ellington, Executive Vice President, Ad Sales and Sponsorships, Sphere. “Zoox is transforming the way the world moves, and together we’re reimagining the journey to and from Sphere.”

“Sphere has quickly become an iconic destination and landmark in Las Vegas, drawing millions of visitors annually with its next-level fusion of art and technology,” says Michael White, Chief Product Officer, Zoox. “With this partnership, riders aren’t just being transported between locations; they’re stepping from the future of transportation into the future of entertainment.”

As part of this partnership, Zoox will receive brand exposure across Sphere platforms. This includes exclusive Zoox branding to help direct riders to their robotaxi in the autonomous zone, as well as custom-branded content on the Exosphere – the world’s largest LED screen – created in collaboration with Sphere Studios, the immersive content studio dedicated to creating content for Sphere.

Sphere is part of a planned service expansion for Zoox in Las Vegas, and the venue will become available for Zoox riders, among other new destinations, early next year.
